The page contains a large grid of dotted lines for writing or drawing. The grid is composed of small squares formed by horizontal and vertical dotted lines. The grid extends from the top header area down to the bottom of the page, and across most of the width. There are three horizontal solid lines that divide the grid into four vertical sections. The first solid line is at row 7, the second is at row 12, and the third is at row 18. The first section (rows 0-6) is the narrowest, followed by a wider section (rows 7-11), a section of the same width as the first (rows 12-17), and a wide section (rows 18-24).
